

Things for the Maid at average half savings Aprons, Caps, Dresses and Waists

Plenty of fresh, new aprons, dresses, caps, and waists, in neat practical patterns, afford splendid choice in our basement to-day.

Maids' Dresses, $1.50
Gingham and chambray, in cadet blue, 34 to 44. Neat designs.

At $2.50 we show Maids' Dresses of guaranteed quality. Fine values.

Maids' Waists, $1.00
Black satin, tucked front, white hemstitched collars and cuffs. All sizes.

Maids' White Aprons, 25c and 50c, with or without bib, plain or embroidered. Good looking.

Maids' Caps, 15c, 19c and 25c
A large assortment in Lawn and Dotted Swiss. Exceptional quality.

Kaufmann & Company
CORNER FOURTH AND BROAD STS.

Social and Personal

"Blindfield," the historic old home of the Beverleys in Essex County, was the scene of a lovely ceremony yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Fanny Scott Beverley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beverley, became the bride of Rev. Herbert Stabler Osburn, son of the late Herbert Osburn and Mrs. Osburn, of Leesburg, and Miss Richardetta Carter Beverley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beverley, of Millbrook, was married to Dr. J. Clark Killey, son of P. H. Killey, of Vivian, W. Va. It was a double ceremony and took place in the huge hall at "Blindfield," the two brides and their attendants coming down the two opposite winding stairways. Great masses of fragrant pink blossoms were used everywhere, and the wide old rooms of the colonial home were a veritable bowery of chrysanthemums and roses against a background of trailing vines and palms. White lilies and candles were used in the improvised altar at one end of the great hall. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Nelson Meade in the presence of a brilliant gathering of distinguished guests.

Some of the guests that went to Essex for the wedding yesterday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bland Beverley, who is the fourth Robert Beverley to marry his daughter, the bride to "Blindfield," Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie Tabb, of Fauquier; Mrs. George B. Rozell, of Imperial; Mr. and Mrs. John Washington, of Alabama; Captain and Mrs. J. H. and Beverly, of Fauquier; Mr. and Mrs. Carter S. Osburn, of Baltimore; Mrs. N. H. Turner, Mrs. R. W. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitton, of Boston, Mass.; J. Lee Whitmore, of Washington; Miss Sue Hall, of Leesburg; Judge R. Carter, of Loudoun; Clara Smith, of King George; Misses Taylor, of Mt. Airy, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carter, of "Blindfield," E. C. Turner, of this city; Judge R. Carter, of Loudoun; Miss Pilsen, of Washington; Miss Annie Hoge, Miss Rozell Clarke, of this city; Roy Killey, of West Virginia; Misses Killey, of West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. John Bilezik, of Frederickburg; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frederickburg; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malm, of Panama; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carter, of Mt. Jackson; Mr. Spear, of Baltimore; Misses Stewart, of Baltimore; Mrs. J. H. and Beverly, of Fauquier; Misses Nettie, Edith and Rebecca Carter, of "Meadow Grove"; Miss Bessie Wright, of "The Plains"; Miss Mary Wright, of "The Plains"; Mr. Herbert, of Columbia, S. C.; W. Ward, of Jack Stevenson, of Bolling Haxall, William Beverley, J. DeBatts Carter, Pinckney Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, of Philadelphia, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Malloy, of Richmond; Loudoun County; Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, of Westford, Mr. and Mrs. William Beverley, Luncheon for Mrs. Branton.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Turner were hosts at a beautiful luncheon given at their apartment at Gresham Court yesterday for Mrs. Theodore Du Bose Branton, wife of Bishop Branton, of Mississippi, who is visiting Mrs. W. A. Montgomery here, returning from the Episcopal Convention in New York. The luncheon table was set with a lovely centerpiece of lilies of the valley and covered with laid for six guests.

Thuchman—Cherryman.
Richmond society is much interested in the marriage of Miss Edna Chrysa Cherryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Koon Cherryman, and Merrill Howard Tilghman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Tilghman, of this city. The ceremony took place yesterday evening at 8 o'clock at All Souls Church in Grand Rapids, Mich. The Rev. E. L. Rexford, D. D., of Columbus, O., officiating. In the presence of a large company of invited guests. The altar was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums in white baskets and on pedestals, and palms and similar formed an effective background. Miss Vera Bennett, organist, and Mrs. Helena Stone Torgerson, of Chicago, harpist, played the wedding music.

The bride entered the church with her uncle, Dr. Chaucery E. Koon, who gave her away. She wore a Parisian gown of applique lace over white satin, with a court train. Her tulle veil was arranged in a shower. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, the groom's gift. She carried a presentation bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Leah Stock, of Hillsdale, Mich., who was her cousin's maid of honor, wore a French frock of shaded yellow satin chrysanthemum, trimmed in silver lace and carried a shower bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids included Misses Josephine McKee, of Chicago, and Agnes Jewell, of Grand Rapids. Their gowns were of white satin draped in Nile green chiffon. They carried bouquets of pearl roses.

Egbert Gilk, of Richmond, was the bridesgroom's best man and the groomsmen included Messrs. Harold Stock, of Hillsdale, Mich.; Morton C. Hill, of Hillsdale, Mich.; Edward Idema and Rexford Cherryman, the bride's brother, all of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Eugene Woodhams, of Hillsdale, Mich., was master of ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman have gone to Bermuda for their wedding trip and will later visit Smith College, of which the bride is a graduate, and Washington, before returning to their home in Richmond. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Tilghman, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stock, of Hillsdale, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Summer Koon, Miss Louise Koon, of Muskegon, Mich.; Mrs. E. D. Calkins, and others.

West-End House Party.
Miss Virginia Dore, who was hostess at a very delightful week-end house party at her home, "Liberty Hall," near Shores, recently. Among those present were Misses Gladys Atkins and Sheldis Jones, of Richmond; Lucille Bray, of Wakeham, Mass.; Koon, Martin, of Baltimore; Whitney and Charles B. Godwin, of Chukateek; Brantly Atkins, of Richmond; and Jack and William Payne, of Columbia.

Mrs. Andrew, who entertained at luncheon, followed by bridge whist Monday afternoon at "Single-Tote," the affair being complimentary to Miss Seay and her guests.

Home Wedding.
A pretty, but quiet, wedding was celebrated yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at "Blindfield," the historic old home of the Beverleys in Essex County, when Miss John-Geline Macdonald, daughter of the late John Angus Macdonald and Mrs. Iovanna Winter Macdonald, was married to Jacob Kilian Bowman, the youngest son of the late Colonel A. M. Bowman and Mrs. Bowman, of Salem. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. J. Bowler, of St. Peter's Cathedral, took place in the little brick parlor of the historic old home, which was arranged throughout with garlands of smilax and quantities of lovely yellow flowers. The improvised altar was decorated with lilies and burning tapers, and shaded lilies were used over the altar.

The bride entered with Mayo Blinford, who gave her in marriage, and wore a tailored suit of Oxford gray with a modish hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a diamond pearl brooch. The matron of honor, Mrs. Laughton Watkins Nuckolls, was crowned in silver gray crepe and carried a bouquet of pink flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen G. Nuckolls, was dressed in a conventional bouquet of purple orchids flanked with sunburst roses and tied with purple tulle streamers. Miss Helen G. Nuckolls, who was maid of honor, wore a gown of cream-colored lace made over heliotrope chrysanthemum with a picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet similar to that of Mrs. Nuckolls. A. M. Bowman, Jr., of Salem, was best man, and Rufus Bowman acted as groomsmen.

Following a Northern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman will be at home after November 15, at 11 East Franklin Street, Richmond. The wedding, although celebrated very quietly on account of mourning in the groom's family, is a very important social event. Mrs. Bowman is a niece of Mrs. Thomas Mayo Blinford, the sister of both the bride and the groom are widely known throughout the State. Mrs. Macdonald, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black satin trimmed in Chantilly lace, and carried a bouquet of some old jewels that have been in her family for many generations.

Outing to Charlottesville.
The outing to Charlottesville Saturday of this week, which is to be run by the Peterkin Guild of St. James Church, will be an interesting and profitable one. Numerous parties have already been made up for the excursion, and many alumni of the University of Virginia are going to witness the football game between the University and Vanderbilt, which takes place that afternoon. Among those going to Charlottesville Saturday are Judge R. Carter Scott, Miss Fanny Scott, Miss Ellen Beirne Scott, Miss Emma Conquest, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Josephine Pinckney, Miss Camilla Wellford and many others.

Affairs of To-Day.
Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson is entertaining this afternoon at her home at the Union Theological Seminary in honor of Lady Ramsey and Miss Ramsey. The guests being invited between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Ramsey, Lady Ramsey and Miss Ramsey are guests of friends here, and a great deal of entertaining is being done in their honor.

Another function to be given by the big barn dance of this evening will be the big barn dance of this evening. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Swartwout at

As An Inducement
to our patrons to have holiday photos made now before the usual rush begins, we offer until November 1, a liberal discount on high-class photos. Make arrangements for sitting. Phone Monroe 1567. Address 207 East Broad St.

Homeier & Clark
THE REINACH CO., Inc.
107 E. BROAD STREET.
MILLINERY—Women's and Misses' Outer Apparel.

J.B. Mosby & Co.
Unusually good values in Women's Tailored Suits.

WARM KNIT UNDERWEAR FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN
Here you'll find every conceivable garment, in cotton, wool and cotton, all wool, and silk and wool.

Ladies' Cotton Vests and Pants, fleece lined, some the Maline no-button kind; regular sizes, 25c; extra sizes, 29c.
Extra Heavy Fleece Lined Vests and Pants, regular and extra sizes, for 50c.

An extra value $1.00 Part Wool Vests and Pants, only a limited quantity to be disposed of; in regular sizes only, for 50c.

Ladies' Half Wool Vests and Pants, high neck, long sleeves or low neck, elbow sleeves, ankle or knee length pants, for $1.00 a garment.
For the imported Swiss ribbed silk and wool ones, for $2.00.

Children's Cotton Vests and Pants, fleece lined, 2 to 12 years, for 25c.
Boys' Fleece Lined Shirts and Drawers, 4 to 14 years, for 25c.

Boys' and Girls' Part Wool Vests and Pants, 2 to 14 years, for 50c to 98c.
Ladies' Union Suits, fleece lined, for 50c.

Ladies' Light Weight Fine Ribbed Cotton Union Suits, high neck, long sleeves, ankle length; or bishop neck, elbow sleeves, knee or ankle, regular or extra sizes, for $1.00.
Part Wool Union Suits, several shapes, for $1.50 and $2.00.

All wool ones, regular and extra sizes, for $3.00.
Children's Union Suits, 4 to 12 years, for 25c.

Boys' and Girls' Union Suits, extra heavy, 4 to 14 years, for 50c.
Boys' and Girls' Union Suits, part wool, knee length, 4 to 16 years, for $1.00.

Booth, of Brookneal, and W. M. Adams, of Richmond.
Healthful—Howard.
The marriage of Miss Bessie Louise Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kemp, and William Congreve Jackson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, was celebrated yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents in Baltimore. The house was decorated with palms, ferns and autumn flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Brathwaite left late for a trip through the North and East.

Suffrage Meeting.
The fourth annual convention of the league will be held in Roanoke next October, an invitation having been extended by the Chamber of Commerce of that city, as well as from the Suffrage League there.

Met Yesterday.
It was announced by Mrs. J. Allison Jones yesterday morning at the regular monthly meeting of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, that North Carolina has just completed her endowment of $25,000 for the North Carolina room in the Museum. This is the first State to complete the endowment fund required, and the announcement was greeted with great applause and enthusiasm. In the presence of Miss Anderson, Mrs. Herbert W. Jackson presided at the meeting yesterday.

Mrs. Francis D. Williams brought before the society a resolution from Councilman Mills, which provides for the marking of all historic places of importance and interest with suitable engraved tablets carrying inscriptions and names, so that any one may know upon what sacred ground he is standing. Mrs. Charles E. Bolling moved that the society endorse this resolution, after much discussion, was carried.

A letter was received by the society from Major William H. Scales, of this city, yesterday morning. It was a letter of appreciation for the gift of a tree that grew over the grave of Stonewall Jackson, and has its history engraved on a tablet. The tree, which is a cedar, is a very old one, and is now in the hands of the Confederate Historical Society. The tree is a very old one, and is now in the hands of the Confederate Historical Society.

The house recent in her report for the month stated that in one week of the past month the door fees amounted to $50. Mrs. S. W. Williams presided at the society with a Confederate and several Confederate buttons.

Hats—Powers.
On Wednesday morning, October 22, at 10 o'clock at St. Peter's Church, in this city, was celebrated the marriage of Miss Anna G. Hatke and the late Andrew Hatke. Father Suet performed the ceremony, assisted by Vicar General Dwyer and Father James. The church was decorated with palms and pink chrysanthemums. The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her away, and they were met at the altar by the groom. The bride wore a gown of broad crepe de chine and tulle veil was arranged in a shower. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, the groom's gift. She carried a presentation bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Edith Hatke, was maid of honor, and wore a simple gown of pale blue crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids included Misses Anna G. Hatke, sister of the bride, Eva Mahoney, Anna Murphy, Gertrude Wright, Margaret Dugan and Bessie Cummins. Their gowns were of pink crepe de chine and they were butterfly bows of pink tulle in their hair. They carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums. The ushers were William Sittling, Henry Schlueter, David Powers, Andrew Mahoney, Tex Foley and John Kennedy, of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatke left at once for a Northern tour, and will be at home after November 15.

In and Out of Town.
Miss Phyllis Taylor left yesterday for the University of Virginia, where she will attend the fall term and the Vanderbilt game.

Mrs. Otto Theodore Hess has returned from New York, and is now at 303 Floyd Avenue for the winter.

Channing Daniel has returned to Philadelphia, after spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. James R. V. Daniel, at the Jefferson Hotel.

Miss Mary Archer has returned to her home in Powhatan County, after a short visit to relatives here.

Mrs. Willis Heard and her children and Mrs. Katherine Heard, who have been at "Rock Hill," for some time past, are leaving for their homes in Georgia to-day.

GREATEST WEIRLESS WON BY REDESDALE

Son of Hon. John Mitford Engaged to Daughter of German Oil King.

BY LA MARQUESE DE PONTENVOY.
LORD REDESDALE'S younger son, the Hon. John Mitford, who has inherited his father's remarkable good looks, and who for the past two years has been learning Continental methods of banking business in Berlin, may boast of having won the hand of the richest heiress in Germany. For the young girl, just twenty years of age, his engagement to whom was announced last week, is the only child of the immensely rich Fritz von Friedlander-Puhl, of Berlin, oil king of Germany, the Standard Oil Company's chief rival on the Continent of Europe and the most powerful of the captains of finance and industry in the dominions of the Kaiser.

It will be a source of regret to Emperor William, who entertains a very sincere liking for Fritz von Friedlander-Puhl, that all the latter's enormous wealth is destined through this impending marriage to pass eventually into English hands instead of German hands.

Fritz Friedlander's career has been of the most extraordinary character. Born and raised as a member of the Jewish faith, he had barely completed his education when his father, a respected coal merchant of Breslau, in Upper Silesia, suddenly died, leaving him a fortune of about $1,000,000 in assets. Young Fritz Friedlander took hold of the concern, and succeeded in borrowing enough from his parents' paternal business, the main asset of which was a coal mine, to take over the entire yield of the mines during that period, at the then most favorable market price. When the management expressed doubt as to his ability to carry the contract, and fear lest he should come to ruin, the same was as his father, he undertook to pay cash for everything.

This contract was the foundation of his great fortune. For within a year the market prices of coal had nearly doubled, reaching a figure nearly double that stipulated in the agreement. At the same time, new and rich veins were opened up in the Schlegel output, tripling and quadrupling the output. Fritz Friedlander's combination of circumstances, Friedlander made a clear profit of $500,000 marks in the first twelve months, and of over a million marks in a second year.

He was a member of the Imperial German Parliament, and was a member of one of the richest Jews of Amsterdam, and since then everything that has touched seems to have turned to gold, especially his oil fields in Roumania.

Both he and his wife, and consequently also their daughter, Marie, have become converts to the Roman Catholic Church. Fritz Friedlander, indeed, has been a member of the church since his childhood, and has been a member of the church since his childhood, and has been a member of the church since his childhood.

The Mitford family, which Lord Redesdale represents in the House of Lords, is one of those which figured conspicuously in the days of the Scottish nobility, when the lords of the Northern Marches, who watch and ward against the forays of the English, were a stronghold of considerable importance. Lord Redesdale, by the way, is a member of that gifted but eccentric individual, the Earl of Eglinton, who, after quitting the royal service, became the literary and press agent of Queen Caroline, got locked up in Warburton's private manhouse at Heston, with the object of writing up its abuses, and was the founder of the original society journal, which used to be known as the Ron Ton Magazine. It, however, came to grief, and so did he, through drink, and he died, and was buried from St. Giles's workhouse (poorhouse), in London.

(Copyright, 1913, by the Brentwood Company.)

McKenney—Horne.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lancaster, Pa., October 22.—A pretty wedding was celebrated here yesterday morning when Miss Margaret Ruth McKenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKenney, of this city, was married to Mr. J. H. Horne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Horne, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Horne, of this city. The bride wore a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Edith Horne, was maid of honor, and wore a simple gown of pale blue crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids included Misses Anna G. Hatke, sister of the bride, Eva Mahoney, Anna Murphy, Gertrude Wright, Margaret Dugan and Bessie Cummins. Their gowns were of pink crepe de chine and they were butterfly bows of pink tulle in their hair. They carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums. The ushers were William Sittling, Henry Schlueter, David Powers, Andrew Mahoney, Tex Foley and John Kennedy, of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Horne left at once for a Northern tour, and will be at home after November 15.

Mr. Thomas Pollard
Desires to announce to his friends that he is now connected with

Schwarzschild Brothers
Jewelers, Second and Broad Sts.

But Send Your Clothes to Footers Dye Works
WHERE CLEANING AND DYEING HAVE ATTAINED THEIR HIGHEST PERFECTION.
Avenue Building, 207-9 Foushee Street. Monroe 4005.

C. LUMSDEN & SON, Inc.
"Jewelers to the Southern People."
Are exhibiting for your inspection one of the largest and most distinctive assortments of WEDDING GIFT ARTICLES.
In Gold, Sterling Silver and Kindred Wares.
The name "LUMSDEN" on your gift signifies much and costs you nothing. A comparison of Price and Artistic Merit is welcome.

C. LUMSDEN & SON, Inc.
Established 1835.
731 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia.